The Courthouse at that prominent little place was crowded, not only by people from that neighborhood but from surrounding points, many from here being in attendance.

The affair was managed by Mr. Martin M. McKnight and from every standpoint was very much a success.

THE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

The First Ward Sidewalk Society Makes a Little Spiel.

IT'S UP TO THE CITY COUNCIL NOW!

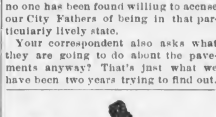

Mr. Editor: A "Citizen" wants to know of THE LEDGER what has become of the "First Ward Sidewalk Improvement Society?"

Permit us, in the language of that accomplished individual who proclaimed the merits of his attraction during our memorable Street Fair, to say that "He is alive; yes, sir, alive!" though no one has been found willing to accede our City Fathers of being in that particularly lively state.

Your correspondent also asks what they are going to do about the pavements anyway? That's just what we have been two years trying to find out.

WHAT ARE THEY GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

Our organization has a standing offer of a liberal reward to be paid anyone who will induce Council to take favorable action on this question; but up to date there has been no one willing to tackle the job. While a few members seem ready to give us the necessary legislation, the others can't be hurried—they weren't born that way.

If a few more of those grumbling "citizens" would follow our lead, these gentlemen might have been brought to a sense of their duty long ago.

Collectively, Council is a "speech" of the late variety, unaffected by the recent Frost.

THEY CAN'T BE HURRIED.

THE SOCIETY.

Why can't that Prince of good Democrats, Colonel HARMON STITT, give the "superior" a rest? Listen to this from his Paris Gazette:

"Gus COULTER has written a letter to Attorney General BRECKINRIDGE advising him to bring suit against Elder JOHN S. SWEENEY, late Auditor, and his bondsmen to recover about $40,000 alleged to have been paid out by Mr. SWEENEY for military purposes without proper authority. All of the money was paid by Mr. SWEENEY upon paper vouchers, but Mr. Gus COULTER says that the vouchers, though properly drawn by designated authorities, should have been turned down by SWEENEY. It looks like both COULTER and BRECKINRIDGE ought to be satisfied with drawing other people's salaries, without worrying the men whose salaries they are drawing by any useless litigation."

The Massachusetts Legislature has undertaken the enactment of a law which shall put it out of the power of Trusts to restrict their customers to the purchase of Trust goods exclusively.

A bill aimed directly at the American and Continental Tobacco Companies was passed to its third reading in the lower house on April 17th by the overwhelming vote of 174 to 8. There can be no valid reason urged against the passage of such a measure, not only in Massachusetts but in every other state. Jobbers should be privileged to buy their supplies from whom they choose; but it's a safe bet that they'll always buy at the lowest price. Their dislike to the Trust will never induce them to pay an individual manufacturer 1/2 of a cent per pound more than the Tobacco Trust asks. The same applies to the consumer, who will fall over his neighbor in his rush to buy a Trust-made article if he can get it a cent cheaper than he can from an anti-Trust manufacturer. After all, the clamor for "cheap" things is the evil of the hour, for cheapness is always at the expense of excellence, whether applied to labor, material, machinery, merchandise, food or raiment.

ANOTHER SITTING.

Cuban Delegates Discuss Political Relations of the United States and Cuba.

ECONOMIC QUESTIONS CONSIDERED.

No Statement, Official or Otherwise, Could Be Obtained as to the Progress Made in the Conference.

It is thought that a very fair understanding of our position has been reached by the representatives of Cuba.

Washington, April 27.—There was a conference at the war department Friday afternoon, lasting more than three hours. At this sitting not only the political relations of the United States and Cuba were discussed, but there was also much time devoted to the economic situation and to the possibility of a reduction of the tariff on sugar and general reciprocity arrangements between this country and the island.

It is believed that the delegates are practically the last business conference by the United States officials, though it is quite probable that the Cubans will desire a further conference with Secretary Root in order to have some points that have been discussed further elucidated after they have considered among themselves the statements made to them by the secretary.

Saturday the Cubans were again accorded to the white house and said good-bye to the president.

The Delegates Retire.

There will be no further conference with Secretary Root until Monday. This was determined upon by the delegation after the return from the war department. No statement official or otherwise, could be obtained from the delegation as to the progress that was made during the conference, nor would the delegates go so far as to say they were satisfied. While it is believed by the United States officials who were present at the conference that everything that possibly could be desired has gone into, yet if the Cubans desire to make further inquiries, they will be given the opportunity. It is believed by the United States officials that a very fair understanding has been reached, and that the complete report of the interview with the secretary which the delegation will take back to the convention, will have a very satisfactory result upon the members of that body.

HE DIED GAME.

Execution of Thomas E. Ketchum, Alias "Black Jack," Notorious Outlaw, at Clayton, N. M.

Clayton, N. M., April 27.—Thos. E. Ketchum, alias "Black Jack," the notorious outlaw who had terrorized the people of the southwest for the past 15 years, was hanged here for train robbery, and his head was severed from his body by the rope as if by a guillotine. The headless trunk pitched forward toward the spectators and blood spattered upon those seated in the scaffold.

The execution took place inside a stockade built for the occasion. The enclosure was filled, 150 citizens having been admitted. When Ketchum mounted the scaffold at 1:17 p. m. his face was pale, but he showed no fear. A priest stood at his side as the rope was being put around his neck. The condemned man had consented to this at the last moment. Ketchum declined to make a speech. "Good-bye," he said, "and please dig my grave very deep." 'We find,' continued Mr. Chamberlain, 'that the Maine lies perfectly level, and it is just 37 feet and 6 inches in a long way from the bow to stern. In order to float the vessel we must first build a dam all around it and pump out the water. When the water has all been removed from the wreck, the hole in her bow will be repaired. Then when the water is turned in again she will rise to the surface and will be towed into the Havana docks for a complete overhauling.'
